

ROOSEVELT AND WILSON VICTORS

Colonel Apparently Captures All New Jersey Delegates.

MEANS TWENTY-EIGHT VOTES

Incomplete Returns Indicate Sage of Sagamore Hill Has Carried Every Congressional District and the State at Large—Democratic Governor Has Strong Opposition and May Lose Four Delegates.

Newark, N. J., May 29.—One of the most sweeping victories Theodore Roosevelt has won in the primaries since he began his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination was recorded by the Republican voters of New Jersey. Indications based on incomplete returns are that Colonel Roosevelt carried every congressional district in the state as well as the state at large and that all the twenty-eight delegates New Jersey will send to Chicago will be Roosevelt men.

Governor Wilson won his own state against a strong opposition headed by his political enemies within the state and appears to have twenty-four of the twenty-eight delegates, including the delegates at large.

Colonel Roosevelt's indicated plurality on the preferential vote is 10,000.

Senator La Follette made a showing in every county, but his vote as far as counted indicated that he would not yet more than 2 per cent of the total.

Taft Men Admit Defeat.

Roosevelt's victory is conceded by the leaders of the state Taft organization. E. W. Gray, secretary of the Taft Business Men's league, said that Colonel Roosevelt probably had won the four delegates at large and also the ten district delegates from the counties of Essex and Hudson, which comprise the cities of Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken, besides a number of the most populous suburban towns.

Governor Wilson's opponents had to be satisfied with the showing they made in Essex county, the stronghold of former Senator James Smith, Jr., and former Democratic State Committeeman James R. Nugent. Indications were that Wilson delegates had been elected for the state at large and in all but two of the districts. The Newark Star, which is owned by former Senator Smith, conceded Governor Wilson's success, but said that the opposition probably would elect six district delegates in Essex and Hudson counties.

Any delegates elected not pledged to Governor Wilson will go to the convention uninstructed.

FINAL STRUGGLE ON FLOOR

Contests Will Come Before Republican Convention.

Chicago, May 29.—A special to the Chicago Tribune from Washington says:

"It will be the national Republican convention and not the national Republican committee that will settle all contests and other matters of dispute between the Roosevelt and Taft forces."

"It is the purpose of the Roosevelt men to carry every fight to the floor of the convention and obtain the final judgment of that body. If the temporary roll of the convention should be made up for Taft, as the Roosevelt adherents believe, and if as a result the permanent roll should be created, then it need surprise no one should an independent convention be held."

"The Taft men also are threatening a bolt, but this is not regarded in political circles as imminent as that of the Roosevelt adherents."

STIMSON CRITICISES HOUSE

Secretary Denounces "Joker" in the Army Bill.

Washington, May 29.—A hot assault on the Democratic house for its enactment of a "joker" in the army bill, which would legislate Major General Wood out of his post as chief of staff next year, was made in a statement issued by Secretary of War Stimson.

"Such personal legislation has been the bane of the army," he declared.

"In the present proposition the evil is exhibited in its most exaggerated form and I doubt if the American people have any sympathy for such an attack."

"The joker tends to put a premium upon mere routine service and to exclude from the highest post of the army men whose force, intelligence and opportunity has brought them quickly to the front."

PASSES HOMESTEAD BILL

Senate Adopts Borah's Measure to Cut Residence Period.

Washington, May 29.—The liberalized homestead bill was acted upon by the senate when the report of the conference committee was adopted. The bill, introduced by Senator Borah, reduces the requisite period of residence from five years to three and grants five months leave of absence annually to permit homesteaders to go away for the purpose of supplementing their incomes. Early action by the house is expected.

SAYS SUIT HAS PROVEN FRAUDS

Attorney General Accuses High Railway Officials.

CLAIMS CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

Wickersham Issues Statement Saying Action for Recovery of Valuable Oil Lands in Southern California Has Developed Sensational and Startling Disclosures Implicating Officers of Southern Pacific.

Washington, May 29.—In a public statement Attorney General Wickersham declared that the government's suit against the Southern Pacific company for the recovery of valuable oil lands in Southern California has developed "sensational and startling disclosures." Testimony by witnesses subpoenaed by the government, he says, "presents a remarkable picture of criminal conspiracy among high officials of the Southern Pacific company to acquire from the United States under an agricultural grant oil lands valued at $15,000,000."

The proceedings were instituted by direction of Mr. Wickersham in December, 1910, to set aside patents and revert in the government title to 6,000 acres of valuable oil bearing lands in the Elk Hills country of the McKittrick oil district, Kern county, California. The lands are within the indemnity limits of the grant of July 27, 1866, to the Southern Pacific Railroad company in aid of the construction of the road. The original granting act, the attorney general's statements says, excluded all mineral lands, the intention of congress being to grant agricultural lands, reserving the mineral lands to the United States for all time.

The government lawyers are confident, the statement avers, that the disclosures made by the testimony of Charles W. Eberlein "will result in the restoration to the public domain of a vast tract of the most valuable oil lands in the state of California."

As acting land agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, the statement alleges, Mr. Eberlein "saved from the confiscation following the San Francisco earthquake all the secret correspondence and documents relating to the conspiracy to defraud the government out of these lands."

Upon being placed upon the stand, the statement continues, Mr. Eberlein "produced correspondence between himself and the late W. D. Cornish, vice president of the Southern Pacific company, fully establishing previous knowledge on the part of railroad company officials of the mineral character of the land selected and indicating an intention to keep the facts from the government officials until after patents should be secured."

BATTLESHIPS WERE NEEDED

State Department Thinks Naval Display in Cuban Waters Justified.

Washington, May 29.—The precautions taken to protect American and other foreign interests in Cuba have been amply justified, in the judgment of the state department, based upon the reports from many sources and especially owners of plantations, mills and mines.

According to information, apparently reliable, the negro insurgents are becoming desperate. Estenoz, their leader, declares that if President Gomez does not procure the repeal of the Morua law prohibiting the organization of a strictly negro party in Cuba he and the other leaders will demand contributions from the railroads and will destroy the property of those who refuse. In the meantime bands of negroes in the unprotected sections of the Guantanamo district continue to steal horses and pillage small stores.

KILLS CUMMINS SUBSTITUTE

Senate Making Progress With Tariff Legislation.

Washington, May 29.—Present indications are that the Democratic tariff bill will be passed by the senate. If this program is carried out, tariff revision at this session will again be defeated by presidential veto.

The senate made real progress with tariff legislation. By a vote of 60 to 12 it rejected the substitute bill offered by Senator Cummins, progressive Republican of Iowa. Mr. Cummins' substitute was proposed as an amendment to the Underwood bill as it came from the house. The vote came at the conclusion of a speech by Senator Cummins. His substitute proposed free iron ore and made a reduction of duties on metals and products ranging from 35 per cent downward.

Two Sets of Texas Delegates.

Port Worth, Tex., May 29.—President Taft's Texas supporters refused to participate in the state convention dominated by the Roosevelt forces, marched away before the time set for convening and held a separate convention. Each convention chose eight delegates at large to the national Republican convention.

SENATOR LEA.

Wants Early Date Set to Vote on the Lorimer Case.

ASK LORIMER TO SET DATE

Lea and Kern Would Give Him Chance to Speak.

Washington, May 29.—Senators Kern and Lea of the anti-Lorimer contingent of the senate telegraphed to Senator Lorimer asking him to state specifically when he would be here so that an early vote to dispose of his election case could be arranged.

"There is no disposition," they telegraphed, "to fix a date for a vote on your case that will prevent you from having an opportunity to speak on it. Your telegrams indicate that you can and expect to be here within a short time. Will you kindly indicate a time that you can be here so that an agreement to vote at an early date can be reached."

COMMITTEE REPORTS ON TITANIC WRECK

Blames Californian Captain for Ignoring Distress Signals.

Washington, May 29.—The Titanic disaster of April 15, in which 1,517 lives were lost amid icebergs off the banks of Newfoundland, was the theme of speech, report and proposed legislation in the senate.

Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan submitted the report of the investigation by the senate commerce committee. A summary of the findings follows:

Captain Smith of the Titanic blamed for failure to heed warnings of icebergs.

Captain Lord of the Californian blamed for disregard of distress signals.

British board of trade held responsible for regulations and hasty inspection.

America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty.

Not sufficient tests of equipment or signal devices before the Titanic sailed.

Officers and crew strangers and no helpful discipline prevailed.

Speed of Titanic 24 1/2 miles at time of accident, although officers knew of presence of icebergs.

Passengers not advised of danger. Room in lifeboats for only 1,717 out of 2,223 persons on board.

Officers of White Star line "battled with truth" after receiving reports of accident.

All nations asked to act together for shipping reforms.

Captain Rostron of Carpathia praised for work of rescue.

CAPTAIN LORD IS REMOVED

Commander of Californian Ignored Titanic's Signals.

Boston, May 29.—Captain Stanley Lord, who went to his berth on the Leyland liner Californian while the Titanic was firing distress rockets four miles away, has been relieved of his command. The Californian is expected to arrive here from Liverpool in charge of Captain Masters, whose father many years ago was captain of the Leyland liner Columbian of the Boston-London service.

The fact that Captain Lord has been removed became known after the committee of the United States senate, which investigated the Titanic disaster, filed its report, although the Californian sailed from Liverpool on May 18.

French Deaths Outnumber Births.

Paris, May 29.—The French minister of labor, Leon Bourgeois, in the report of the vital statistics of France for 1911, says the number of deaths was 34,869 more than the total births, thus indicating the continued unfavorable situation of France, as compared with that of growing nations.

Death Penalty Banished.

Columbus, O., May 29.—The constitutional convention adopted a proposal abolishing the death penalty and prescribing life imprisonment. The vote was 65 to 42.

CONGRESS AND THE HOLIDAYS

Sessions Are Seldom Held on Memorial Day.

DIFFERENT ON FOURTH OF JULY

No Suggestion of Adjourning When Session Extends Over That Date—Interesting Meeting of the Belmonts and Japanese Delegate to the International Red Cross Meeting.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 29.—[Special.]—Congress is rarely in session on Memorial day, though other holidays do not obtain such respect. Of course there is always adjournment over Christmas and New Year's, for at that time there is no pressure of public business requiring sessions. By the 22d of February, however, the need of pushing business becomes so great that both houses generally remain in session.

If a session extends to the Fourth of July congress will sit all day and work as hard as any day in the year. But Memorial day is something different. Most of the members make arrangements to be away on that occasion. Many of them deliver orations over the soldier dead. The senate never hesitates, but adjourns over as sure as the day comes.

An Interesting Meeting.

At the time of the international Red Cross meeting in Washington there was a delegation from Japan in attendance. One of the delegates was Count Otagawa, who, with his wife, called on Hon. Perry Belmont. The grandfather of the countess and the grandfather of Mr. Belmont signed the first treaty which admitted foreigners to Japan. It was a forerunner of several other treaties, in which the United States was the first country to act, between Japan and other countries and which revolutionized the island empire. The grandfather of Countess Otagawa represented the Shogun, which then ruled Japan.

The grandfather of Mr. Belmont was Commodore Matthew C. Perry. The latter was a brother of Oliver Hazard Perry, who won the great victory over the British on Lake Erie in 1813. In the capital picture of Perry on Lake Erie young Matthew Perry, then a boy, is standing in a boat beside his brother, who is transferring his flag from one ship to another.

Gave Interesting Facts.

Usually nothing is quite so cold, chilly and perfunctory as the Sunday eulogies in the house of representatives. Occasionally there is something more than the usual high flown tribute to the departed member. General Sherwood was responsible for such a break in the proceedings and was inspired to do so because the subject was General Gordon, a Confederate who was captured at Franklin, a very bloody battle, late in 1864. General Sherwood was at the battle, and he told some facts of interest connected with the war. One thing he said was most interesting. The civil war inspired the writing of more than 100 songs sung by the soldiers. No songs were inspired or sung as a result of seven years of the Revolutionary war save "Yankee Doodle." Not one patriotic song was written or sung by the soldiers in 1812. "The Star Spangled Banner" was written near the close of the war. The music for that great anthem was taken from a melody written in England in 1773.

Cartoons Barred.

Senator Stone of Missouri wanted to get a cartoon printed in the Congressional Record which was a roast upon Theodore Roosevelt. Senator Smoot of Utah is the self constituted "watchdog of the Record"—that is, he makes it his business to see that it is not filled with everything that a senator wants printed—so he pointed out to Stone that the rules barred illustrations in the Record.

"That shows," remarked Stone, "that the senator from Utah is not entirely and intensely the Taft man that I thought he was."

Smoot vigorously asserted that it was not a question of politics. He might have said that it was evident that the Missouri senator was for Taft as against Roosevelt, which would have been true of almost any Democratic senator.

Contests on Their Merits.

When Victor Rosewater, chairman of the Republican national committee, was in Washington he assured everybody that the contests at Chicago were to be considered upon their merits. He also remarked that efforts would be made to reach an adjustment in northern states, whose electoral votes were necessary for Republican success, in such a way as to smooth out and settle existing differences. More than ten days will be given to consideration of these contests by the national committee.

Heyburn's Comparison.

While making his regular speech against the forestry service Senator Heyburn said that in the old days the people living near forests put out fires when they started. He said the foresters, according to his observation, did not know what to do when fires occurred. "They are as useless"—and the Idaho senator paused for a comparison—"as a jaybird in a tree."

BERT H. FRANKLIN.

Blames Darrow for Jury Brining in McNamara Case.

FRANKLIN TELLS HIS STORY

Detective Testifies in Case Against Lawyer Darrow.

Los Angeles, May 29.—Bert H. Franklin, former chief detective for the McNamara defense and now star witness for the prosecution in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery, took the stand and related what he declared to be the manner in which Darrow, then chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, and himself attempted to bribe jurors in the trial of James B. McNamara.

"It's about time to get busy with the jury," Franklin quoted Darrow as saying to him on Oct. 5, 1911. The next day, he said, Darrow gave him a check for $1,000 to be used in buying the vote as a juror of Robert M. Bain, who later became the first sworn juror in the trial. He said he had known Bain for twenty years and that he had arranged for the corruption of the juror.

SEVEN PERSONS DIE IN OKLAHOMA STORM

Number of Others Injured and Much Property Damaged.

Tulsa, Okla., May 29.—Seven persons were killed, three probably were fatally hurt and a score or more were less seriously injured when a tornado swept through the village of Skiatook, eighteen miles northwest of Tulsa. The property loss is estimated at $75,000. Wire communication was severed and the extent of the storm was not known until messengers arrived here.

The storm, which approached from the northwest, swept down the valley for five miles and through a dense forest, before it struck the town of Skiatook.

A number of farm buildings were wrecked and twenty houses in Skiatook were demolished. The storm passed from Skiatook into the oil fields, leveling derricks, tanks and pumping stations.

The dead include four children.

REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS

Governor of Minnesota Issues Statement to the Press.

St. Paul, May 29.—Governor Eberhart, in his first reply to attacks made upon his administration by Lieutenant Governor Sam Y. Gordon and other of his political opponents, issued a statement to the press charging that Gordon's failure to co-operate with the administration resulted in the defeat of reappointment, readjustment of railroad rates and the statewide primary bill.

By inference the governor charges that Gordon and other members of the legislature brought about the defeat of beneficial legislation he had recommended in a selfish effort to further their own political fortunes. The governor points to the record of his administration and declares that he is willing to "stand or fall by it."

GUILTY OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

New York Man Called Several Congressmen Crooks.

Washington, May 29.—Henry W. Page, the New York linen merchant on trial here for criminal libel in circulating defamatory literature against Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the house judiciary committee and other members of congress, was found guilty by a jury.

Immediately after the verdict was reported counsel for Page gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial. Justice Barnard released the convicted man in $5,000 bail.

In his testimony, which closed the defense, Page disclaimed any "malice" in the circular and pamphlet attacking Representative Clayton and other members of the house. He admitted that he had called members of the house "crooks," but said that he had not meant the term in its usually accepted form.

DENIES EVADING COURT'S DECREE

FEW MEN OBEY SUMMONS

Twin City Freight Handlers Reluctant to Strike.

St. Paul, May 29.—A canvass of the four transfer stations handling Twin City freight and the city freight houses of roads running out of St. Paul and Minneapolis showed that about 400 out of approximately 1,339 men quit work in response to the strike order issued by James Kelly, international vice president of the freight handlers' brotherhood. Without a single exception the railway clerks remained at work in both cities.

Officials of the road declared that the backbone of the strike already has been broken by the refusal of a majority of the men to quit and that in a day or so the strikers will return to work. They stated that the places of the strikers would be filled and that the strike would not hinder the handling of Twin City freight.

CLASH OVER COFFEE SUIT

Two Cabinet Officers Held Widely Different Views.

Washington, May 29.—Secretary of State Knox has recommended to President Taft that the civil anti-trust suit against the coffee trust be withdrawn because of possible complications with Brazil. This disagreement in the cabinet between the secretary of state and Attorney General Wickersham as to the propriety of attacking the Brazilian valorization scheme in American courts thus became known.

President Taft, however, has not yet accepted the suggestion of the secretary of state and the attorney general continues his preparations to pursue the matter in the courts.

As the issue centers about a foreign state Secretary Knox regards the problem as one for settlement by diplomacy and not for treatment in the courts of the United States.

John D. Rockefeller Testifies Regarding Dissolution.

OIL MAGNATE POUNDS TABLE

Skillfully Dodges Some Questions and

Insists on Answering His Own Way Admits He Does Not Know Much About Method of Reorganizing the Standard Oil Company.

New York, May 29.—John D. Rockefeller was placed on the witness stand here to tell whether he believed the Standard Oil company had been really dissolved under the decree of the United States supreme court.

Mr. Rockefeller could not be induced at all times to give direct answers to questions, but made indignant denial of all suggestions that there had been any effort to evade the decree of the court.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared as a witness in the action brought nominally by the state of Missouri to expel the inspectors of the election of the stockholders of the Waters-Pierce Oil company at St. Louis last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests which had named Standard Oil men as officials of the company.

The inspectors refused on the ground that to do so would violate the dissolution decree of the supreme court of the United States and of the decision of the Missouri supreme court ordering the Standard Oil company of Indiana from the former state.

Allege Farical Methods.

The Waters-Pierce interests alleged, in fighting to prevent the Standard Oil representatives from gaining control of the company, that the manner in which the Standard Oil interests had observed the decree of the United States court was "farical."

The aged oil magnate and the richest man in the world was subjected to a grilling by Samuel Undermyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests, that caused the witness to pound his fists on the table to emphasize his indignant denials of pointed questions as to whether the decree of the court had been in fact carried out.

"Did you ever have a discussion with John D. Archbold as to how these subsidiaries should be 'cut loose and still held tight?'" queried the Waters-Pierce attorney.

"There never was any thought of cutting loose and holding tight," Mr. Rockefeller almost shouted. "I happen to know about that."

Never Read Court Decree.

Mr. Rockefeller had previously made the statement that he had never read the United States supreme court decree, although he knew about it "in a general way."

Mr. Undermyer had the utmost difficulty throughout the examination to get him to answer questions by "yes" and "no." Mr. Rockefeller persisted in giving his own answers in his own way, nor could he be induced to change his tactics even after Commissioner Abraham L. Jacobs, appointed to take the testimony, had instructed him to give a direct answer.

Finding the effort hopeless the examining attorney remarked that if the witness were "asked if the sun was shining outside Mr. Rockefeller would not give a direct answer. He would say instead that the moon was about to rise."

Both Mr. Undermyer and Commissioner Jacobs found frequent occasion to object to the prompting of George W. Murray, Mr. Rockefeller's personal counsel, Mr. Undermyer declaring that he was influencing the witness' answers.

CONTINUE GUERRILLA TACTICS

Cuban Insurgents Are Showing Increasing Boldness.

Havana, May 29.—Since the beginning of the insurrection in Oriente news from the front never was so meager. Information reaching Havana was confined to indications of increased boldness on the part of the insurgents, as evidenced by their successful attacks on the villages of Ramon de Las Yaguas and Yerbaguinea, where they defeated the rural guards and captured a sergeant, together with arms and ammunition.

These two places are about twenty miles northeast of Santiago.

A collision between the main opposing bodies has been hourly expected, but the revolutionary generals, Estenoz and Iyonet, apparently desire to avoid close combat. They continue guerrilla tactics, in which they excel, and which probably they will be able to carry on indefinitely.

General Mendia is doing his utmost to supply guards for the plantations, especially to protect the property of foreigners, but this is difficult on account of the size of the province.

ROOSEVELT AND WILSON VICTORS

Colonel Apparently Captures All New Jersey Delegates.

MEANS TWENTY-EIGHT VOTES

Incomplete Returns Indicate Sage of Sagamore Hill Has Carried Every Congressional District and the State at Large—Democratic Governor Has Strong Opposition and May Lose Four Delegates.

Newark, N. J., May 29.—One of the most sweeping victories Theodore Roosevelt has won in the primaries since he began his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination was recorded by the Republican voters of New Jersey. Indications based on incomplete returns are that Colonel Roosevelt carried every congressional district in the state as well as the state at large and that all the twenty-eight delegates New Jersey will send to Chicago will be Roosevelt men.

Governor Wilson won his own state against a strong opposition headed by his political enemies within the state and appears to have twenty-four of the twenty-eight delegates, including the delegates at large.

Colonel Roosevelt's indicated plurality on the preferential vote is 10,000.

Senator La Follette made a showing in every county, but his vote as far as counted indicated that he would not yet more than 2 per cent of the total.

Taft Men Admit Defeat.

Roosevelt's victory is conceded by the leaders of the state Taft organization. E. W. Gray, secretary of the Taft Business Men's league, said that Colonel Roosevelt probably had won the four delegates at large and also the ten district delegates from the counties of Essex and Hudson, which comprise the cities of Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken, besides a number of the most populous suburban towns.

Governor Wilson's opponents had to be satisfied with the showing they made in Essex county, the stronghold of former Senator James Smith, Jr., and former Democratic State Committeeman James R. Nugent. Indications were that Wilson delegates had been elected for the state at large and in all but two of the districts. The Newark Star, which is owned by former Senator Smith, conceded Governor Wilson's success, but said that the opposition probably would elect six district delegates in Essex and Hudson counties.

Any delegates elected not pledged to Governor Wilson will go to the convention uninstructed.

SAYS SUIT HAS PROVEN FRAUDS

Attorney General Accuses High Railway Officials.

CLAIMS CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

Wickersham Issues Statement Saying Action for Recovery of Valuable Oil Lands in Southern California Has Developed Sensational and Startling Disclosures Implicating Officers of Southern Pacific.

Washington, May 29.—In a public statement Attorney General Wickersham declared that the government's suit against the Southern Pacific company for the recovery of valuable oil lands in Southern California has developed "sensational and startling disclosures." Testimony by witnesses subpoenaed by the government, he says, "presents a remarkable picture of criminal conspiracy among high officials of the Southern Pacific company to acquire from the United States under an agricultural grant oil lands valued at $15,000,000."

The proceedings were instituted by direction of Mr. Wickersham in December, 1910, to set aside patents and revert in the government title to 6,000 acres of valuable oil bearing lands in the Elk Hills country of the McKittrick oil district, Kern county, California. The lands are within the indemnity limits of the grant of July 27, 1866, to the Southern Pacific Railroad company in aid of the construction of the road. The original granting act, the attorney general's statements says, excluded all mineral lands, the intention of congress being to grant agricultural lands, reserving the mineral lands to the United States for all time.

The government lawyers are confident, the statement avers, that the disclosures made by the testimony of Charles W. Eberlein "will result in the restoration to the public domain of a vast tract of the most valuable oil lands in the state of California."

As acting land agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, the statement alleges, Mr. Eberlein "saved from the confiscation following the San Francisco earthquake all the secret correspondence and documents relating to the conspiracy to defraud the government out of these lands."

Upon being placed upon the stand, the statement continues, Mr. Eberlein "produced correspondence between himself and the late W. D. Cornish, vice president of the Southern Pacific company, fully establishing previous knowledge on the part of railroad company officials of the mineral character of the land selected and indicating an intention to keep the facts from the government officials until after patents should be secured."

BATTLESHIPS WERE NEEDED

State Department Thinks Naval Display in Cuban Waters Justified.

Washington, May 29.—The precautions taken to protect American and other foreign interests in Cuba have been amply justified, in the judgment of the state department, based upon the reports from many sources and especially owners of plantations, mills and mines.

According to information, apparently reliable, the negro insurgents are becoming desperate. Estenoz, their leader, declares that if President Gomez does not procure the repeal of the Morua law prohibiting the organization of a strictly negro party in Cuba he and the other leaders will demand contributions from the railroads and from the owners of estates and will destroy the property of those who refuse. In the meantime bands of negroes in the unprotected sections of the Guantanamo district continue to steal horses and pillage small stores.

KILLS CUMMINS SUBSTITUTE

Senate Making Progress With Tariff Legislation.

Washington, May 29.—Present indications are that the Democratic tariff bill will be passed by the senate. If this program is carried out, tariff revision at this session will again be defeated by presidential veto.

The senate made real progress with tariff legislation. By a vote of 60 to 12 it rejected the substitute bill offered by Senator Cummins, progressive Republican of Iowa. Mr. Cummins' substitute was proposed as an amendment to the Underwood bill as it came from the house. The vote came at the conclusion of a speech by Senator Cummins. His substitute proposed free iron ore and made a reduction of duties on metals and products ranging from 35 per cent downward.

Two Sets of Texas Delegates.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 29.—President Taft's Texas supporters refused to participate in the state convention dominated by the Roosevelt forces, marched away before the time set for convening and held a separate convention. Each convention chose eight delegates at large to the national Republican convention.

SENATOR LEA.

Wants Early Date Set to Vote on the Lorimer Case.

ASK LORIMER TO SET DATE

Lea and Kern Would Give Him Chance to Speak.

Washington, May 29.—Senators Kern and Lea of the anti-Lorimer contingent of the senate telegraphed to Senator Lorimer asking him to state specifically when he would be here so that an early vote to dispose of his election case could be arranged. "There is no disposition," they telegraphed, "to fix a date for a vote on your case that will prevent you from having an opportunity to speak on it. Your telegrams indicate that you can and expect to be here within a short time. Will you kindly indicate a time that you can be here so that an agreement to vote at an early date can be reached."

COMMITTEE REPORTS ON TITANIC WRECK

Blames Californian Captain for Ignoring Distress Signals.

Washington, May 29.—The Titanic disaster of April 15, in which 1,517 lives were lost amid icebergs off the banks of Newfoundland, was the theme of speech and report of the committee. A summary of the findings follows:

Captain Smith of the Titanic blamed for failure to heed warnings of icebergs. Captain Lord of the Californian blamed for disregard of distress signals.

British board of trade held responsible for regulations and hasty inspection. America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty.

Not sufficient tests of equipment or signal devices before the Titanic sailed. Officers and crew strangers and no helpful discipline prevailed.

Speed of Titanic 24½ miles at time of accident, although officers knew of presence of icebergs.

Passengers not advised of danger. Room in lifeboats for only 1,717 out of 2,223 persons on board.

Officers of White Star line "battled with truth" after receiving reports of accident.

All nations asked to act together for shipping reforms.

Captain Rostrom of Carpathia praised for work of rescue.

CAPTAIN LORD IS REMOVED

Commander of Californian Ignored Titanic's Signals.

Boston, May 29.—Captain Stanley Lord, who went to his berth on the Leyland liner Californian while the Titanic was firing distress rockets four miles away, has been relieved of his command. The Californian is expected to arrive here from Liverpool in charge of Captain Masters, whose father many years ago was captain of the Leyland liner Columbian of the Boston-London service.

The fact that Captain Lord has been removed became known after the committee of the United States senate, which investigated the Titanic disaster, filed its report, although the Californian sailed from Liverpool on May 18.

French Deaths Outnumber Births.

Paris, May 29.—The French minister of labor, Leon Bougeois, in the report of the vital statistics of France for 1911, says the number of deaths was 34,869 more than the total births, thus indicating the continued unfavorable situation of France, as compared with that of growing nations.

Death Penalty Banished.

Columbus, O., May 29.—The constitutional convention adopted a proposal abolishing the death penalty and prescribing life imprisonment. The vote was 65 to 42.

CONGRESS AND THE HOLIDAYS

Sessions Are Seldom Held on Memorial Day.

DIFFERENT ON FOURTH OF JULY

No Suggestion of Adjourning When Session Extends Over That Date—Interesting Meeting of the Belmonts and Japanese Delegate to the International Red Cross Meeting.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 29.—[Special.]—Congress is rarely in session on Memorial day, though other holidays do not obtain such respect. Of course there is always adjournment over Christmas and New Year's, for at that time there is no pressure of public business requiring sessions. By the 22d of February, however, the need of pushing business becomes so great that both houses generally remain in session.

If a session extends to the Fourth of July congress will sit all day and work as hard as any day in the year. But Memorial day is something different. Most of the members make arrangements to be away on that occasion. Many of them deliver orations over the soldier dead. The senate never hesitates, but adjourns over as sure as the day comes.

An Interesting Meeting.

At the time of the International Red Cross meeting in Washington there was a delegation from Japan in attendance. One of the delegates was Count Otagawa, who, with his wife, called on Hon. Perry Belmont. The grandfather of the countess and the grandfather of Mr. Belmont signed the first treaty which admitted foreigners to Japan. It was a forerunner of several other treaties, in which the United States was the first country to act, between Japan and other countries and which revolutionized the island empire. The grandfather of Countess Otagawa represented the Shogun, which then ruled Japan.

The grandfather of Mr. Belmont was Commodore Matthew C. Perry. The latter was a brother of Oliver Hazard Perry, who won the great victory over the British on Lake Erie in 1813. In the capitol picture of Perry on Lake Erie young Matthew Perry, then a boy, is standing in a boat beside his brother, who is transferring his flag from one ship to another.

Gave Interesting Facts.

Usually nothing is quite so cold, chilly and perfunctory as the Sunday eulogies in the house of representatives. Occasionally there is something more than the usual high down tribute to the departed member. General Sherwood was responsible for such a break in the proceedings and was inspired to do so because the subject was General Gordon, a Confederate who was captured at Franklin, a very bloody battle, late in 1864. General Sherwood was at the battle, and he told some facts of interest connected with the war. One thing he said was most interesting. The civil war inspired the writing of more than 100 songs sung by the soldiers. No songs were inspired or sung as a result of seven years of the Revolutionary war save "Yankee Doodle." Not one patriotic song was written or sung by the soldiers in 1812. "The Star Spangled Banner" was written near the close of the war. The music for that great anthem was taken from a melody written in England in 1773.

Cartoons Barred.

Senator Stone of Missouri wanted to get a cartoon printed in the Congressional Record which was a roast upon Theodore Roosevelt. Senator Snoot of Utah is the self constituted "watchdog of the Record"—that is, he makes it his business to see that it is not filled with everything that a senator wants printed—so he pointed out to Stone that the rules barred illustrations in the Record.

"That shows," remarked Stone, "that the senator from Utah is not entirely and intensely the Taft man that I thought he was."

Snoot vigorously asserted that it was not a question of politics. He might have said that it was evident that the Missouri senator was for Taft as against Roosevelt, which would have been true of almost any Democratic senator.

Contests on Their Merits.

When Victor Rosewater, chairman of the Republican national committee, was in Washington he assured everybody that the contests at Chicago were to be considered upon their merits. He also remarked that efforts would be made to reach an adjustment in northern states, whose electoral votes were necessary for Republican success, in such a way as to smooth out and settle existing differences. More than ten days will be given to consideration of these contests by the national committee.

Heyburn's Comparison.

While making his regular speech against the forestry service Senator Heyburn said that in the old days the people living near forests put out fires when they started. He said the foresters, according to his observation, did not know what to do when fires occurred. "They are as useless"—and the Idaho senator paused for a comparison—"as a jaybird in a tree."

BERT H. FRANKLIN.

Blames Darrow for Jury Bribing in McNamara Case.

FRANKLIN TELLS HIS STORY

Detective Testifies in Case Against Lawyer Darrow.

Los Angeles, May 29.—Bert H. Franklin, former chief detective for the McNamara defense and now star witness for the prosecution in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery, took the stand and related what he declared to be the manner in which Darrow, then chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, and himself attempted to bribe jurors in the trial of James B. McNamara.

"It's about time to get busy with the jury," Franklin quoted Darrow as saying to him on Oct. 5, 1911. The next day, he said, Darrow gave him a check for $1,000 to be used in buying the vote as a juror of Robert M. Bain, who later became the first sworn juror in the trial. He said he had known Bain for twenty years and that he had arranged for the corruption of the juror.

SEVEN PERSONS DIE IN OKLAHOMA STORM

Number of Others Injured and Much Property Damaged.

Tulsa, Okla., May 29.—Seven persons were killed, three probably were fatally hurt and a score or more were less seriously injured when a tornado swept through the village of Skiatook, eighteen miles northwest of Tulsa. The property loss is estimated at $75,000. Wire communication was severed and the extent of the storm was not known until messengers arrived here.

The storm, which approached from the northwest, swept down the valley for five miles and through a dense forest, before it struck the town of Skiatook.

A number of farm buildings were wrecked and twenty houses in Skiatook were demolished. The storm passed from Skiatook into the oil fields, leveling derricks, tanks and pumping stations.

The dead include four children.

REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS

Governor of Minnesota Issues Statement to the Press.

St. Paul, May 29.—Governor Eberhart, in his first reply to attacks made upon his administration by Lieutenant Governor Sam Y. Gordon and other of his political opponents, issued a statement to the press charging that Gordon's failure to co-operate with the administration resulted in the defeat of reappointment, readjustment of railroad rates and the statewide primary bill.

By inference the governor charges that Gordon and other members of the legislature brought about the defeat of beneficial legislation he had recommended in a selfish effort to further their own political fortunes. The governor points to the record of his administration and declares that he is willing to "stand or fall by it."

GUILTY OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

New York Man Called Several Congressmen Crooks.

Washington, May 29.—Henry W. Page, the New York linen merchant on trial here for criminal libel in circulating defamatory literature against Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the house judiciary committee and other members of congress, was found guilty by a jury.

Immediately after the verdict was reported counsel for Page gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial. Justice Barnard released the convicted man in $5,000 bail.

In his testimony, which closed the defense, Page disclaimed any "malice" in the circular and pamphlet attacking Representative Clayton and other members of the house. He admitted that he had called members of the house "crooks," but said that he had meant the term in its usually accepted form.

DENIES EVADING COURT'S DECREE

FEW MEN OBEY SUMMONS

Twin City Freight Handlers Reluctant to Strike.

St. Paul, May 29.—A canvass of the four transfer stations handling Twin City freight and the city freight houses of roads running out of St. Paul and Minneapolis showed that about 400 out of approximately 1,339 men quit work in response to the strike order issued by James Kelly, international vice president of the freight handlers' brotherhood. Without a single exception the railway clerks remained at work in both cities.

Officials of the road declared that the backbone of the strike already has been broken by the refusal of a majority of the men to quit and that in a day or so the strikers will return to work. They stated that the places of the strikers would be filled and that the strike would not hinder the handling of Twin City freight.

CLASH OVER COFFEE SUIT

Two Cabinet Officers Hold Widely Different Views.

Washington, May 29.—Secretary of State Knox has recommended to President Taft that the civil anti-trust suit against the coffee trust be withdrawn because of possible complications with Brazil. This disagreement in the cabinet between the secretary of state and Attorney General Wickersham as to the propriety of attacking the Brazilian valorization scheme in American courts thus became known.

President Taft, however, has not yet accepted the suggestion of the secretary of state and the attorney general continues his preparations to pursue the matter in the courts.

As the issue centers about a foreign state Secretary Knox regards the problem as one for settlement by diplomacy and not for treatment in the courts of the United States.

John D. Rockefeller Testifies Regarding Dissolution.

OIL MAGNATE POUNDS TABLE

Skillfully Dodges Some Questions and Insists on Answering His Own Way Admits He Does Not Know Much About Method of Reorganizing the Standard Oil Company.

New York, May 29.—John D. Rockefeller was placed on the witness stand here to tell whether he believed the Standard Oil company had been really dissolved under the decree of the United States supreme court.

Mr. Rockefeller could not be induced at all times to give direct answers to questions, but made indignant denial of all suggestions that there had been any effort to evade the decree of the court.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared as a witness in the action brought nominally by the state of Missouri to expel the inspectors of the election of the stockholders of the Waters-Pierce Oil company at St. Louis last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests which had named Standard Oil men as officials of the company.

The inspectors refused on the ground that to do so would violate the dissolution decree of the supreme court of the United States and of the decision of the Missouri supreme court ousting the Standard Oil company of Indiana from the former state.

Allege Farcical Methods.

The Waters-Pierce interests alleged, in fighting to prevent the Standard Oil representatives from gaining control of the company, that the manner in which the Standard Oil interests had observed the decree of the United States court was "farcical."

The aged oil magnate and the richest man in the world was subjected to a grilling by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests, that caused the witness to pound his fists on the table to emphasize his indignant denials of pointed questions as to whether the decree of the court had been in fact carried out.

"Did you ever have a discussion with John D. Arenhold as to how these subsidiaries should be 'cut loose and still held tight?'" queried the Waters-Pierce attorney.

"There never was any thought of cutting loose and holding tight," Mr. Rockefeller almost shouted. "I happen to know about that."

Never Read Court Decree.

Mr. Rockefeller had previously made the statement that he had never read the United States supreme court decree, although he knew about it "in a general way."

Mr. Untermyer had the utmost difficulty throughout the examination to get him to answer questions by "yes" and "no." Mr. Rockefeller persisted in giving his own answers in his own way, nor could he be induced to change his tactics even after Commissioner Abraham L. Jacobs, appointed to take the testimony, had instructed him to give a direct answer.

Finding the effort hopeless the examining attorney remarked that if the witness were "asked if the sun was shining outside Mr. Rockefeller would not give a direct answer. He would say instead that the moon was about to rise."

Both Mr. Untermyer and Commissioner Jacobs found frequent occasion to object to the prompting of George W. Murray, Mr. Rockefeller's personal counsel, Mr. Untermyer declaring that he was influencing the witness' answers.

Cuban Insurgents Are Showing Increasing Boldness.

Havana, May 29.—Since the beginning of the insurrection in Oriente news from the front never was so meager. Information reaching Havana was confined to indications of increased boldness on the part of the insurgents, as evidenced by their successful attacks on the villages of Ramon de Las Yaguas and Yaguajay, where they defeated the rural guards and captured a sergeant, together with arms and ammunition.

EYE STRAIN.

First Felt Not In the Eyes, but In the Organ That is Weakest.

No human organ, except possibly the heart, is called on for such hard and continuous activity. Even the most musical ear is never taxed beyond the three or four hours of a Wagnerian opera and at the worst is rested by frequent intermissions. The brain, even in the case of professional men, is called on for only six to eight hours of work a day. But we use our eyes in business all day and then all evening in our amusements. In point of fact, the heart itself is less severely taxed.

The eye has, to be sure, a most marvelous strength. As long as its mechanism remains measurably correct it seldom or never gives out, and its vitality is supreme. But when to the strain of near work in artificial light are added defects in its own mechanism even this wonderfully adaptable and hardy servant gives symptoms of strain.

The brain is generally our first infirmity. It automatically supplies the energy that flogs the lens muscle to its ceaseless task, and it is in the closest possible sympathy with the retina, the sensitive plate on which all vision is recorded. The brain declares its exhaustion in headache and vertigo. The masterful eye, so to speak, shrinks off its suzerainty over the nearest neighbor. Yet in many cases even the brain gives no direct symptom. It is the central organ, the highly vital and complex master of the entire system, and it also has a superior way of passing on the kick. Just how it does this oculists do not profess to know. The rule seems to be that eye strain declares itself first in the organ which is nearest and weakest. The stomach, the liver, the intestines, the kidney, the heart or the membranes of nose and throat may develop symptoms while the eye and the brain seem normal.—Metropolitan Magazine.

Mrs. M. Bishop, Columbus, Kansas, suffered from a weak back a good many years, as a result of kidney trouble. "I began taking Foley Kidney Pills and soon after the pain left my back and today I am fully cured." For sale by H. P. Dunn. mwf-w

Too Sensitive to Give Up.
"Will you promise," she anxiously asked, "not to do anything desperate if I say it can never be?"
"Yes," he replied. "I think a man's a fool who goes to the bad because a girl refuses to love him."

The Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association are contemplating building a potato warehouse at Deerwood. The establishment of a permanent market gives an incentive to farmers to raise uniform crops and is a step forward both for the town and for the farming community.

The Moose are in trouble, that is that branch of the herd in the vicinity of St. Paul, and the lodge books have been seized and an attempt made to attach $2,300 the lodge has in the bank. The trouble arises over failure to recognize laws of the national body and not showing proper respect to the national officers. The supreme lodge is issuing the orders.

St. Paul is busy these days getting ready for the special session of the legislature that opens on Tuesday next and which will remain in session for — days, the blank to be supplied by the reader. Inasmuch as the members have drawn their salary, and spent it, the guesser should take into consideration that the employees will be under pay at $5 and $10 per day.

with the paper as writer for some years, and the paper will not lack its usual interesting features. For 27 years Mr. Adams has been connected with the publication and he is one of the few newspaper men in this state who has succeeded to the extent that a bank in a thriving city is one of the newspaper assets, and the newspaper boys of the state will all congratulate him on his deserved promotion.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Some Slight Changes Made at the Last Moment in the Day's Program

Some changes have been made in the Memorial Day program for tomorrow. The committee announces that the parade will form at nine o'clock in the morning instead of 9:30. The place of meeting will be at the G. A. R. headquarters in the Odd Fellows building, 212 South Sixth street, instead of near the Ransford hotel.

At the afternoon program the glee club of the Brainerd schools will sing two instead of one song.

Supt. W. C. Cobb has suggested that the people wear a sprig of evergreen or the miniature American colors in honor of the day, following therein the idea suggested by a St. Paul man and approved by President Taft. The evergreen is a most appropriate emblem and easy to secure and it is hoped all will follow this suggestion.

CROSBY VS BRAINERD THURSDAY AT 3.30

The Range Town Has Rehabilitated its Team and Strengthened the Outfield

LYLE TO PITCH FOR CROSBY

Cook Will be on the Mound for Brainerd—Good Game is Promised by Management

Brainerd plays Crosby on Thursday afternoon, Decoration Day, the game being called at 3:30 at the Koering grounds.

The Crosby that faces Brainerd tomorrow is a different team than the one which played the first game of the season here. The team has been entirely rehabilitated. The outfield has been strengthened.

Crosby showed its mettle last Sunday when it defeated the best team that Staples and Motley could muster by a 9 to 8 score. And this is the team which Staples, in a way, had figured to represent it in the league.

Lyle will pitch for Crosby. Cook will be on the mound for the locals. He distinguished himself in the Brainerd-St. Cloud game and it's worth the price to see him in action.

Playing Manager Tom Considine promises a good game and there is no doubt that the fans will turn out.

In speaking about the St. Cloud game Playing Manager Considine said that he touched Stempel out before he reached the base and that after being touched out the little St. Cloud shortstop deliberately ran into him and spiked him in the knee, the wounds of which are still in evidence. There are two sides to a story and the St. Cloud side, of course, gives Stempel the best of it. Encounters like the Stempel case are to be regretted as Brainerd players do not like to see one of their men jumped into, especially so when a man has been put out and there is no occasion for a slide to a base.

The Brainerd line up, just announced, will be: G. Erickson ss, Hagen 1b, Templeton 3b, Cook p, Sheffield lf, Callan cf, I. Roderick 2b, Engbertson c, Ole Peterson rf.

ST. CLOUD GAME NOTES

References Made to the Brainerd-St. Cloud Game by the St. Cloud Times of Monday

One of the best ways to kill base ball in any town or league is to let the players dictate to the umpire. This induces wrangling which makes the game distasteful to the average citizen of good mind.

General appearances lead one to believe that this little league of ours is a little overstocked on pitchers or shy on catchers. Guess that the latter is the trouble. The games that have been witnessed by us seem to indicate that mound artists are afraid to let out their best stuff on account of the weakness of the back stops.

Brainerd brought about eight fans with them. But those eight were good fellows and kept up a steady rooting for their team and after the game was over they gave a set of cheers with a tiger for the St. Cloud team, the town and the people. Thanks.

NOT A SQUARE DEAL FOR COUNTY

Board of Managers of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society Issues Booklet

COUNTY POORLY DESCRIBED

Never Mentions Range Towns or the Cuyuna Range—No Mention of the Soo Line

"Crow Wing county didn't get a square deal that time," said the Crow Wing county man who scanned the booklet issued by the board of managers of the Minnesota State Agricultural society and entitled "Minnesota, The State of Opportunities." The book, issued as a state fair adjunct in the advertising line, gives a general description of the state's resources and then takes up the counties separately.

Minnesota's three cities, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, are given two pages of description. The subject of "Mines," however, is given 7 lines in the book, as follows: "There are located in the state of Minnesota, 78 iron mines. This includes both state and private mines. The total valuation is estimated by the state tax commission, for the year 1910, at $224,669,845. The total tonnage of these mines for the same year amounted to $1,347,596,291. St. Louis county alone produced over sixty per cent of the iron ore mined in the United States." Not a word about the Cuyuna range.

In describing the counties in detail, each is given two inches spaces. In the Crow Wing county description the county is given credit for three villages, Deerwood, Jenkins and Pequot and one city, Brainerd.

Whisper that softly on the Cuyuna range. Think of it, range people, after all the work done on the range the board of state fair managers is unable to see Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna Barrows, Manganese, Orelund on the map. The man that compiled those Crow Wing county statistics never left his desk. He never saw Crow Wing county or the Cuyuna range.

There is but one remedy here. Crow Wing county must have an exhibit at the state fair which will make amends for this oversight. The matter of an exhibit has been previously neglected and the county suffers for it in the incomplete advertising it gets by the board of state fair people.

They are not to blame, in a way. They don't know us.

"Believe me," said a Crosby man, "when George H. Crosby reads this, he will have an exhibit at the fair, if he has to do it all himself."

In the matter of railroads, the county is given credit for but two, the Northern Pacific and the Minnesota & International. Not a word about the Cuyuna Northern to Orelund or the Soo tapping the rich range country and running through Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna and Ironhub.

The other statistics are as follows: Soil—In highlands sandy loam with subsoil of clay and sand. Lowlands black muck, vegetable mold.

Land Area—676,480 acres. Number of farms, 1,148. Acreage in farms, 168,771. Value of all farm property, $4,733,472.

Number of cattle, 10,624; swine, 2,716; sheep, 3,128; poultry, 39,544. Value of domestic animals, $531,583.

Principal Crops—Corn 5,244 A. 135,263 bushels; oats 5,950 A. 104,963 bushels; wheat, 2,138 A. 25,693 bushels; barley, 621 A. 10,217 bu.; rye, 1,146 A. 16,941 bu.; flaxseed, 145 A. 825 bu.; timothy seed, 12 A. 60 bu.; potatoes, 1,610 A. 194,358 bu.; hay and forage, 21,181 A. 25,878 tons.

Bank deposits, March 15, 1912—$1,277,623. Unsold state land January 1, 1912, 17,680 acres. Land can be purchased at from $10 to $20 per acre according to location and improvements.

If the state fair managers could not see any range towns on the map it is doubtful if the bank deposits given above include those of the First National Bank of Crosby, the First National Bank of Deerwood, the First State Bank of Ironton, the First State Bank of Cuyuna.

The moral to this story is: "By all means have a Crow Wing county exhibit at the state fair which will speak for itself and educate Minnesota people on the subject of Crow Wing county."

Commercial Club to Discuss Water-works and Sewers at its Next Meeting Monday Evening

Deerwood, Minn., May 29—The agricultural special train operated by the Northern Pacific railway in conjunction with the state agricultural college visited Deerwood village at noon Tuesday. The train was composed of cars for live stock, farm machinery, implements and apparatus for demonstration purposes, passenger coaches arranged for lectures, and a business car. Daniel E. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific and formerly with the state agricultural college of North Dakota, accompanied the train. The speakers included Supt. A. J. McGuire, of the Northeast Experiment station; W. H. Tomhave, of the agricultural extension; F. H. Scribner, of the U. S. department of agriculture; R. M. Washburn, of the dairy division of the Minnesota agricultural college; N. E. Chapman, C. E. Brown of Crookston, F. B. McEran of Wrenshall, Prof. Thomas Shaw, F. W. Merrill and C. E. Brown, the well known Elk River demonstration farm expert. A large attendance greeted the train at Deerwood. Each coach was filled with an attentive audience among which were noted many people from the vicinity of Deerwood who had traveled specially to town to see the stock and to hear the lecture.

The special train, the first agricultural special on the Northern Pacific and Minnesota & International railway lines, will do much for the improvement of agriculture.

The next meeting of the Deerwood Commercial club will be held on Monday evening and waterworks and sewers will be discussed, something which the town is urgently in need of.

F. L. Pitt is completing his pretty residence near Serpent lake and is building 150 feet of six foot cement walk which leads down to the launch path.

The Royal Neighbors gave a card party at Coffin's hall Friday evening. Miss Agnes I. Lamb has returned from a visit at Chicago.

The stores at Deerwood will close at ten o'clock on the morning of Decoration Day.

F. J. Egan, chief engineer of the Cuyuna Northern railway, is reported to have taken a position with the Canadian Northern at Port Arthur.

G. A. Rydberg, of the Manganese Iron Co., was at Deerwood Monday. Dave O'Brien, of Duluth, an official of the Iron Mountain Mining Co., was inspecting the company's properties on Tuesday.

The senior class of the Brainerd high school visited Deerwood Tuesday afternoon and took the launch for Crosby.

The First National bank has received another section of safety deposit boxes.

Mrs. John Ernster, of Brainerd, and Mrs. Andy Smith, of Canton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ernster.

The lecture delivered by Rev. Chas. Fox Davis of Brainerd, at the Methodist church was well liked by the audience and the program, which also included vocal solos by Mrs. P. A. Gough and Mrs. H. J. Ernster, was a great success.

A new street is being opened in the west end of Deerwood to connect with the state highway to extend from Moorhead to Duluth.

Wilson Bradley has returned from a business trip to Duluth. William Seafeld has sold his house and lot in Ironton to Martin Koski.

The Deerwood baseball team is practicing every afternoon and evening, but so far has not screwed up enough courage to play Cuyuna or any of the other range towns.

Charles Osterlund has completed the installation of his ice cream parlor fixtures. The parlor is a most pleasant nook arranged in two sections where visitors may eat their ice cream in undisturbed seclusion. The tables and seats are of Circassian walnut. The draperies are of a brown shade. The electric lights are variously colored globes housed in ornamental shades.

Thomas Keating is at Duluth on business.

A. M. Opsahl, of Brainerd, opened his photograph gallery on Wednesday.

Recent Heavy Windstorm Breaks Old 80 Foot Stack at the Pumping Station

LEAVES STUMP OF 27 FEET

One of Upper Guy Wires on the Stack is Broken When the Old Section Falls

The recent heavy wind storm wrecked the old stack on the pumping station. The stack was 80 feet high, 30 inches in diameter and had been left on the building when the new stack was erected. The old one is not used and so the plant was not incapacitated by the accident.

Twenty-seven feet of the smoke-stack remains. The balance fell on the roof, tearing a jagged hole there about six feet square and breaking one of the upper guy wires holding the new stack.

Pat Burke was the engineer on duty the night of the storm and happened to be removed some distance from where the hole was torn in the roof. Lath and plaster came down in showers.

Frank Coffyn in His Thrilling Hydro-aeroplane Flights

If you have never sailed the air in an aeroplane you will realize that exhilarating and exciting experience in the wonderful flights of Frank Coffyn, the daring aviator, as he flies in his hydroaeroplane over the Statue of Liberty, the gigantic skyscrapers of New York City, then swoops like a bird, skimming the waters of the East River and under the Brooklyn Bridge, alighting on the surface of the stream and floating along like a swan. These flights can be witnessed at the Empress tonight, and we get an uplifting and comprehensive idea of the future possibilities of an air-trip, showing how a city looks as we are passing over it.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Some Slight Changes Made at the Last Moment in the Day's Program

Some changes have been made in the Memorial Day program for tomorrow. The committee announces that the parade will form at nine o'clock in the morning instead of 9:30. The place of meeting will be at the G. A. R. headquarters in the Odd Fellows building, 212 South Sixth street, instead of near the Ransford hotel.

At the afternoon program the glee club of the Brainerd schools will sing two instead of one song.

Supt. W. C. Cobb has suggested that the people wear a sprig of evergreen or the miniature American colors in honor of the day, following therein the idea suggested by a St. Paul man and approved by President Taft. The evergreen is a most appropriate emblem and easy to secure and it is hoped all will follow this suggestion.

CROSBY VS BRAINERD THURSDAY AT 3.30

The Range Town Has Rehabilitated its Team and Strengthened the Outfield

LYLE TO PITCH FOR CROSBY

Cook Will be on the Mound for Brainerd—Good Game is Promised by Management

Brainerd plays Crosby on Thursday afternoon, Decoration Day, the game being called at 3:30 at the Keoring grounds.

The Crosby that faces Brainerd tomorrow is a different team than the one which played the first game of the season here. The team has been entirely rehabilitated. The outfield has been strengthened.

Crosby showed its mettle last Sunday when it defeated the best team that Staples and Motley could muster by a 9 to 8 score. And this is the team which Staples, in a way, had figured to represent it in the league.

Lyle will pitch for Crosby. Cook will be on the mound for the locals. He distinguished himself in the Brainerd-St. Cloud game and it's worth the price to see him in action.

Playing Manager Tom Considine promises a good game and there is no doubt that the fans will turn out. In speaking about the St. Cloud game Playing Manager Considine said that he touched Stemper out before he reached the base and that after being touched out the little St. Cloud shortstop deliberately ran into him and spiked him in the knee, the wounds of which are still in evidence. There are two sides to a story and the St. Cloud side, of course, gives Stemper the best of it. Encounters like the Stemper case are to be regretted as Brainerd players do not like to see one of their men jumped into, especially so when a man has been put out and there is no occasion for a slide to a base.

The Brainerd line up, just announced, will be:

G. Erickson ss, Hagen lb, Templeton 3b, Cook p, Shelloff lf, Callan cf, I. Roderick 2b, Engstrom c, Ole Peterson rf.

ST. CLOUD GAME NOTES

References Made to the Brainerd-St. Cloud Game by the St. Cloud Times of Monday

One of the best ways to kill base ball in any town or league is to let the players dictate to the umpire. This induces wrangling which makes the game distasteful to the average citizen of good mind.

General appearances lead one to believe that this little league of ours is a little overstocked on pitchers or shy on catchers. Guess that the latter is the trouble. The games that have been witnessed by us seem to indicate that mound artists are afraid to let out their best stuff on account of the weakness of the back stops.

Brainerd brought about eight fans with them. But those eight were good fellows and kept up a steady rooting for their team and after the game was over they gave a set of cheers with a tiger for the St. Cloud team, the town and the people. Thanks.

NOT A SQUARE DEAL FOR COUNTY

COUNTY POORLY DESCRIBED

Never Mentions Range Towns or the Cuyuna Range—No Mention of the Soo Line

"Crow Wing county didn't get a square deal that time," said the Crow Wing county man who scanned the booklet issued by the board of managers of the Minnesota State Agricultural society and entitled "Minnesota. The State of Opportunities." The book, issued as a state fair adjunct in the advertising line, gives a general description of the state's resources and then takes up the counties separately.

Minnesota's three cities, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, are given two pages of description. The subject of "Mines," however, is given 7 lines in the book, as follows: "There are located in the state of Minnesota 78 iron mines. This includes both state and private mines. The total valuation is estimated by the state tax commission, for the year 1910, at $224,669,845. The total tonnage of these mines for the same year amounted to $1,347,596,291. St. Louis county alone produced over sixty per cent of the iron ore mined in the United States." Not a word about the Cuyuna range.

In describing the counties in detail, each is given two inches spaces. In the Crow Wing county description the county is given credit for three villages, Deerwood, Jenkins and Pequot and one city, Brainerd.

Whisper that softly on the Cuyuna range. Think of it, range people, after all the work done on the range the board of state fair managers is unable to see Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna Barrows, Manganese, Orelund on the map. The man that compiled those Crow Wing county statistics never left his desk. He never saw Crow Wing county or the Cuyuna range.

There is but one remedy here. Crow Wing county must have an exhibit at the state fair which will make amends for this oversight. The matter of an exhibit has been previously neglected and the county suffers for it in the incomplete advertising it gets by the board of state fair people. They are not to blame, in a way. They don't know us.

"Believe me," said a Crosby man, "when George H. Crosby reads this, he will have an exhibit at the fair, if he has to do it all himself."

In the matter of railroads, the county is given credit for but two, the Northern Pacific and the Minnesota & International. Not a word about the Cuyuna Northern to Orelund or the Soo tapping the rich range country and running through Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna and Ironton.

The other statistics are as follows: Soil—In highlands sandy loam with subsoil of clay and sand. Lowlands black muck, vegetable mold.

Land Area—676,480 acres. Number of farms, 1,148. Acreage in farms, 168,771. Value of all farm property, $4,733,472.

Number of cattle, 10,624; swine, 2,716; sheep, 3,128; poultry, 39,544. Value of domestic animals, $531,583.

Principal Crops—Corn 5,244 A. 135,263 bushels; oats 5,959 A. 104,963 bushels; wheat, 2,138 A. 25,693 bushels; barley, 621 A. 10,217 bu.; rye, 1,146 A. 16,941 bu.; flaxseed, 145 A. 825 bu.; timothy seed, 12 A. 60 bu.; potatoes, 1,610 A. 194,358 bu.; hay and forage, 21,181 A. 25,878 tons.

Bank deposits, March 15, 1912—$1,277,623. Unsold state land January 1, 1912, 17,680 acres. Land can be purchased at from $10 to $30 per acre according to location and improvements.

If the state fair managers could not see any range towns on the map it is doubtful if the bank deposits given above include those of the First National Bank of Crosby, the First National Bank of Deerwood, the First State bank of Ironton, the First State Bank of Cuyuna.

The moral to this story is: "By all means have a Crow Wing county exhibit at the state fair which will speak for itself and educate Minnesota people on the subject of Crow Wing county."

MEMORIAL TO COLUMBUS READY

Washington Expects 200,000 Visitors on June 8.

PLANS ARE BEING COMPLETED

The Program Will Include, Besides a Parade, Reception, Banquet, Concerts and Fireworks Display—Prominent Men of All Creeds Will Participate.

The Knights of Columbus throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and the distant possessions of this country will participate in the Columbus memorial unveiling, to take place in Washington Saturday, June 8. There is every assurance that there will be at least 200,000 visitors in Washington the day of the unveiling.

Work on the statue, the side of which is directly in front of the Union station, has progressed to the point where its early completion is assured. The heroic figure of Columbus, covered with a mantle of cloth, is in position, and the great capstone, or globe, will be put in place shortly. Twenty-four hours in every day experts are at work. The citizens of the national capital, through the board of trade and the chamber of commerce, are rapidly completing the arrangements for the entertainment of visitors. The public entertainment for the unveiling period is being arranged on an elaborate scale. The plans are being carried forward under the direction of a joint committee of both bodies, with Joseph Strassburger as chairman.

For Police Protection.

The commissioners have sent a bill to congress requesting an appropriation of $8,000 to provide additional police protection.

The entertainment that has been planned by the citizens' committee consists in part of a big reception at the Pan-American Republics building, in which President Taft will probably participate. There will be public concerts, an auto and floral parade, a fireworks display on the Monument lot, fetes in the amusement parks, together with many private dinners and entertainments.

The parade that will precede the unveiling on June 8 will be reviewed by President Taft and notable men in official life. There will be a big display by the naval and military forces of the government. A squadron of American vessels will ride at anchor at the mouth of the Potomac during the unveiling period to greet a squadron of German ships coming to return the call of an American squadron at Kiel. The navy department has planned to entertain the officers of the German vessels at Washington, when they will be the guests at dinner of President Taft.

Floats in Parade.

Following the army and navy contingents in the parade will come the Knights of Columbus division, which will be headed by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia as grand marshal. It is stated at the office of the Knights of Columbus headquarters that there will be more than 50,000 men in line. Floats depicting various events in the life of Columbus will be in this division. The Knights of Columbus of Washington have contracted for a float showing the landing of Columbus, the cost of which will be $1,000. Other jurisdictions of the Knights of Columbus also will have floats in the parade.

Other organizations of the nation interested in Christopher Columbus and proud of his exploits as a contributor in a very material sense to the welfare of humanity will be in the line of march.

President Will Review It.

President Taft will review the parade from the stand at the statue. There will also be public reviewing stands along the line of march.

A public banquet is being arranged for the evening of June 8. There will be accommodations at this feast for 1,500 persons. Men of all creeds and affiliations will gather about the banquet board, and at the guest table will be seated the president of the United States and distinguished representatives of official and diplomatic life in the nation's capital, as well as prominent officials from Canada and from the principal cities of the United States.

Fully Assimilated.

Ray S. Baker, the author, in an argument on immigration cited the marvellous speed with which the immigrant what not, becomes assimilated into the national life.

"An instance of this assimilation occurs to me," he said. "I know a worthy Neapolitan, one Paolo Cenci, who came to this country three years ago. Paolo's little son, Francesco, an American citizen of seven, looked up from his schoolbooks the other evening to ask:

"Say, pa, what year was it you Italians discovered us in?"—Exchange.

A Blow to Carlyle. When the first volume of Carlyle's masterpiece, "The French Revolution," was finished, it was sent to his great friend, John Stuart Mill, for him to read, but by some extraordinary accident Mill's servant used the manuscript to light the fire.

Carlyle kept no notes and could scarcely recall a sentence of what he had written. Nevertheless he set to work again, although thoroughly disheartened, and after two more years of hard and laborious work the manuscript was for the second time completed.

PICTURES IN THE CAPITOL.

Reed's Caustic Comment on His Portrait in the House Gallery.

Among the most interesting features of the capitol at Washington are the numerous paintings of departed statesmen and events of importance in our national history. In the wide gallery back of the house of representatives are portraits of the various speakers of the house. The likeness of each speaker is hung in this hall of fame upon his retirement from office.

The portrait of every speaker can be found there, with but one exception. The missing face is that of Nathaniel Macon of North Carolina, who was speaker from 1801 to 1807. Macon was a modest, unassuming man of simple manners, attired always in the coarse homespun of the day, although an exceptionally able official. A lover of horses and cattle, he entered the pedigree of his own blooded stock in his family Bible. Macon never posed for his picture. Although every effort has been made to discover a portrait of him, the search has been without avail.

A service of barely five minutes in the speaker's chair won for one man a space on the wall of this gallery. Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the house, was elected vice president and took the oath of office on the 4th of March, 1869. On the morning of that day Colfax resigned the speakership, and Theodore M. Pomeroy of New York was elected speaker for the remaining few minutes of the session.

The picture of Thomas B. Reed was painted during the last year of his term of office. When it was shown to him he looked at it closely. He noticed the protruding lips, the florid complexion, the heavy, flabby cheeks and massive neck.

His eyelids partly closed and his countenance grew cold. Slowly and with his inimitable drawl he commented:

"I hope that my dearest enemy is satisfied now."

Then with an expression of irony on his countenance he turned and left the room.

Of the many portraits from life in the capitol the most valuable is one of the Gilbert Stuart pictures of Washington. There are two portraits of Washington by Stuart. One of these Stuart portraits of Washington cost the government $5,000. This is the most expensive portrait in the capitol. However, other pictures in the building have been infinitely more expensive—for instance, the great "Battle of Lake Erie," at the turn of the senate stair-case, showing Commodore Perry leaving his flagship at the height of the battle, cost $30,000.

A POET'S GUARDIAN.

Paludan-Muller's Fierce Little Wife Kept Him Secluded.

The famous poet of Denmark, Paludan-Muller, was closely guarded in his later years by an eccentric wife, greatly his senior. Of her preposterous oddity, writes Edmund Gosse in "Two Visits to Denmark," stories were everywhere current in Copenhagen. She kept him as much as she possibly could from all intercourse with the outer world. During a visit to Copenhagen the host of Mr. Gosse decided to invite the poet to dine, and his daughter and guest were sent on a mission to invite him.

If we could secure him for a night convenient to him, writes Mr. Gosse, all that was brightest and best in Copenhagen was to be constrained to come too. But fortune was against us. If we had found him alone it is possible that success might have crowned our efforts. When we arrived with our dinner invitation on our lips we were damped by being told the poet had gone out for a walk, but that Mrs. Paludan-Muller would receive us. The fierce little lady, in fact, closed our retreat by peeping round the edge of the door and commanding us to enter. Miss Aline Fog, overwhelmed by the event, lost her presence of mind and blurted out the invitation, which it would have been wiser to suppress.

The answer came at once: "Impossible, my dear lady, impossible! I could not sanction it. Mr. Paludan-Muller is weak; he is good natured, he is only too ready to go into society. I say to him: 'You are too delicate, my dear, to mix with others. You must positively consider your health.'"

Miss Fog feebly asked whether the poet might not himself be appealed to. "Such old friends, so small a party; so early an hour!" The lady was quite obdurate, however. "I could not trust him with your message. He is so weak, so good natured. His place is at home with me. I do not wish to dine abroad. Why should he?"

Magic Figures.

"The most remarkable arrangement of numbers that I know of," said a local business college man who takes a delight in solving curious problems and digging up mathematical oddities, "is the combination of the six figures 142,857. Multiply this number by 2, and the answer is 428,571; by 4, and the answer is 571,428; by 5, and the answer is 714,285; by 6, and the answer is 857,142. Each answer contains exactly the same digits as the original sum. And, to cap the climax, multiply the number by 7, and up comes the answer 999,999.

"Try it and see if it is not so."—Philadelphia Record.

The Tea Problem. "Is tea harmful?"

"Sometimes it drives a man from home," replied Mr. Cumrox solemnly. "It all depends on whether your wife is content to drink it or insists on giving it to one."—Washington Star.

MYSTIC BABYLON AND HER DAUGHTERS

Weighed in the Balances and Found Wanting.

Pastor Russell Explains the Double Significance of the Word "Babylon," Protestant Denominations Born Under the Intoxicating Influence of False Theories—Misuse of "Golden Cup."

PASTOR RUSSELL

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 28.—Pastor Russell addressed a large audience again in the Academy of Music. His topic was, "The Fall of Mystic Babylon." His text: "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin—weighed in the balances and found wanting." (Dan. v. 25, 27.) In brief he said:

While our message for today is "meat in due season" to the Household of Faith and every way most important to be understood, it is, nevertheless, a subject difficult to treat without giving offense, without being misunderstood, without seeming harsh. Bear with me, then, while expressing what I believe to be the Divine Message, in just as kindly a manner as I know how.

Babylon's Golden Cup.

Under the figure of a woman clothed in purple and scarlet the Mother System of Babylon, centuries ago, "made all nations drunk with her wine," the doctrines which she had in her "golden cup." (Rev. xvii. 1-6.) The "golden cup" represents the wine of false doctrine was put into it—when the Bible was claimed as authority for the erroneous teachings of the Dark Ages. The intoxicating wine which made the nations drunk, and led them to support the "woman," and to call them "Christian nations," Papacy still holds in her hand, and still offers to all who will receive it. But the nations are gradually sobering up, and becoming less and less inclined to take more of the wine.

The thought is that a commingled wine—a stupefying potion—was put into the wine in the cup; such doctrines as that God's Kingdom had been set up, and that the Pope reigns as Christ's Vicegerent. Other poisonous elements had threatened the people with Purgatorial torture, or eternal torment.

The Protestant denominations were all born under those intoxicating influences. While they separated from the Mother system, and denounced her, yet they hold doctrinally to many of the intoxicating errors of her "cup." Consequently they, too, claim that Messiah's Kingdom is set up and is reigning. They join in giving the nations the same dose the Mother gave them, telling them they are Christian nations, though they are building great guns and dreadnoughts to blow each other off the face of the earth.

Water here symbolizes revenues, from outside peoples and kingdoms. So in Revelation we read that the woman with the golden cup "sitteth upon many waters;" "and the waters which thou sawest are peoples and multitudes, and nations, and tongues." (Rev. xvii. 1, 15.)

The "Euphrates" to Be Dried Up.

In book of Revelation not merely is the name Babylon used, but the symbolical description includes the name of the Euphrates, and we read of the great River Euphrates that "The water thereof was dried up." If we are correct in interpreting these "waters" to signify revenues, what would be signified by the drying up of the river? It would imply a cessation of the revenues of Babylon—millions coming every year from rich and poor of all nations for her support. It is in full accord with this Divine prediction of what is to come that we hear crying arising from all denominations, Catholic and Protestant, that the "waters," the revenues, are being dried up.

History tells that the great City of Babylon was captured by Cyrus and his army after a considerable siege. His soldiers dug a fresh channel for the river and turned its course aside. Thus was the River Euphrates dried up, and the army of Cyrus entered Babylon, suddenly, in the night. While these things were transpiring, the princes of Babylon, corresponding to the notables of Christendom, were holding high carnival, rejoicing in security.

It was at this moment of exuberance that in the banquet hall of Belshazzar a hand appeared and wrote: "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin." "Mene"—the days of your rule are numbered and finished. "Tekel"—Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting! "Upharsin"—thy Kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians. The strong symbolisms used in respect to Mystic Babylon correspond so well with the prophetic language used respecting literal Babylon that we are warranted in understanding literal Babylon to have been a prototype of Mystic Babylon, and her fall a prefigure of the fall of Christendom. Read Isa. xlii. 1-19. Compare Jer. i and ii with Revelation xvi. xvii and xviii.

Cordial. Mrs. Jenkins—Mrs. Smith, we shall be neighbors now. I have bought a house next you with a water frontage. Mrs. Smith—So glad! I hope you will drop in some time.—Everybody's.

Literally. Policeman (to suspicious stranger at midnight)—What are you doing in this store? Burglar—Can't yer see I'm takin' stock?—Boston Transcript.

Next to excellence is the appreciation of it.—Thackeray.

MELLIN'S FOOD

babies are perfect specimens

"Our little son is a typical Mellin's Food baby. When he was born he weighed eight and one-half pounds. We began using Mellin's Food when he was ten days old. Now at eight months he is a perfect specimen of a baby, exceptionally strong, weighing over twenty-five pounds. We are indeed pleased with the results. Baby had been troubled with his stomach ever since he was born until we started to use Mellin's Food. We had tried all kinds of baby foods and milks, but none seemed to agree with him."

"We have been feeding Mellin's Food to our baby for about two months and are very well satisfied with the results. ## Tam o' Shanter's Inn.

Every visitor to Ayr, Scotland, should see the little Tam o' Shanter inn, with its simple front and great lamp hanging over the sidewalk. Here opened the scene which Robert Burns has immortalized in his poem "Tam o' Shanter." Tam had spent a very convivial evening at the inn, and when he finally started home on his gray mare, Meg, he was in a rather foggy frame of mind. A terrific storm was raging, and on the way he was caught by ghosts, who ended his earthly career.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and as time passed, my condition grew worse. About a year ago I was suddenly taken with such a severe pain in the small of my back that I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine relieved me somewhat and I got out in a few weeks, but I still suffered severely. Someone finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply. The contents of a few boxes restored me to good health and corrected all symptoms of my complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will act just as satisfactorily in other cases of kidney trouble." (Statement given September 1, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

Fully Assimilated.

Ray S. Baker, the author, in an argument on immigration cited the marvelous speed with which the immigrant family, be it German or French or what not, becomes assimilated into the national life.

"An instance of this assimilation occurs to me," he said. "I know a worthy Neapolitan, one Paolo Cenci, who came to this country three years ago. Paolo's little son, Francesco, an American citizen of seven, looked up from his schoolbooks the other evening to ask:

"Say, pa, what year was it you Italians discovered us in?"—Exchange.

A Blow to Carlyle.

When the first volume of Carlyle's masterpiece, "The French Revolution," was finished, it was sent to his great friend, John Stuart Mill, for him to read, but by some extraordinary accident Mill's servant used the manuscript to light the fire.

Carlyle had kept no notes and could scarcely recall a sentence of what he had written. Nevertheless he set to work again, although thoroughly disheartened, and after two more years of hard and laborious work the manuscript was for the second time completed.

PICTURES IN THE CAPITOL.

Among the most interesting features of the capitol at Washington are the numerous paintings of departed statesmen and events of importance in our national history. In the wide gallery back of the house of representatives are portraits of the various speakers of the house. The likeness of each speaker is hung in this hall of fame upon his retirement from office.

The portrait of every speaker can be found there, with but one exception. The missing face is that of Nathaniel Macon of North Carolina, who was speaker from 1801 to 1807. Macon was a modest, unassuming man of simple manners, attired always in the homespun of the day, although an exceptionally able official. A lover of horses and cattle, he entered the pedigree of his own blooded stock in his family Bible. Macon never posed for his picture. Although every effort has been made to discover a portrait of him, the search has been without avail.

A service of barely five minutes in the speaker's chair won for one man a space on the wall of this gallery. Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the house, was elected vice president and took the oath of office on the 4th of March, 1893. On the morning of that day Colfax resigned the speakership, and Theodore M. Pomeroy of New York was elected speaker for the remaining few minutes of the session.

The picture of Thomas B. Reed was painted during the last year of his term of office. When it was shown to him he looked at it closely. He noticed the protruding lips, the florid complexion, the heavy, flabby cheeks and massive neck.

His eyelids partly closed and his countenance grew cold. Slowly and with his infinitesimal drawl he commented:

"I hope that my dearest enemy is satisfied now."

Then with an expression of irony on his countenance he turned and left the room.

Of the many portraits from life in the capitol the most valuable is one of the Gilbert Stuart pictures of Washington. There are two portraits of Washington by Stuart. One of these Stuart portraits of Washington cost the government $7,000. This is the most expensive portrait in the capitol. However, other pictures in the building have been infinitely more expensive—for instance, the great "Battle of Lake Erie," at the turn of the senate staircase, showing Commodore Perry leaving his flagship at the height of the battle, cost $30,000.

A POET'S GUARDIAN.

Paludan-Muller's Fierce Little Wife Kept Him Secluded.

The famous poet of Denmark, Paludan-Muller, was closely guarded in his later years by an eccentric wife, greatly his senior. Of her preposterous oddity, writes Edmund Gosse in "Two Visits to Denmark," stories were everywhere current in Copenhagen. She kept him as much as she possibly could from all intercourse with the outer world. During a visit to Copenhagen the host of Mr. Gosse decided to invite the poet to dine, and his daughter and guest were sent on a mission to invite him.

If we could secure him for a night convenient to him, writes Mr. Gosse, all that was brightest and best in Copenhagen was to be constrained to come too. But fortune was against us. If we had found him alone it is possible that success might have crowned our efforts. When we arrived with our dinner invitation on our lips we were damped by being told the poet had gone out for a walk, but that Mrs. Paludan-Muller would receive us. The fierce little lady, in fact, closed our retreat by peeping round the edge of the door and commanding us to enter. Miss Aline Fog, overwhelmed by the event, lost her presence of mind and blurted out the invitation, which it would have been wiser to suppress.

The answer came at once: "Impossible, my dear lady, impossible! I could not sanction it. Mr. Paludan-Muller is weak; he is good natured; he is only too ready to go into society. It is my privilege to prevent it. I say to him: 'You are too delicate, my dear, to mix with others. You must positively consider your health.'"

Miss Fog feebly asked whether the poet might not himself be appealed to. "Such old friends; so small a party; so early an hour!" The lady was quite obdurate, however. "I could not trust him with your message. He is so weak, so good natured. His place is at home with me. I do not wish to dine abroad. Why should he?"

Magic Figures.

"The most remarkable arrangement of numbers that I know of," said a local business college man who takes a delight in solving curious problems and digging up mathematical oddities, "is the combination of the six figures 142,857. Multiply this number by 2, and the answer is 428,571; by 4, and the answer is 571,428; by 5, and the answer is 714,285; by 6, and the answer is 857,142. Each answer contains exactly the same digits as the original sum. And, to cap the climax, multiply the number by 7, and up comes the answer 999,999.

The Tea Problem.

"Is tea harmful?"
"Sometimes it drives a man from home," replied Mr. Cumrox solemnly. "It all depends on whether your wife is content to drink it or insists on giving it to one."—Washington Star.

MYSTIC BABYLON AND HER DAUGHTERS

Weighed In the Balances and Found Wanting.

Pastor Russell Explains the Double Significance of the Word "Babylon." Protestant Denominations Born Under the Intoxicating Influence of False Theories—Misuse of "Golden Cup."

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

While our message for today is "meat in due season" to the Household of Faith and every way most important to be understood, it is, nevertheless, a subject difficult to treat without giving offense, without being misunderstood, without seeming harsh. Bear with me, then, while expressing what I believe to be the Divine Message, in just as kindly a manner as I know how.

There was no Mystic Babylon in the days of Jesus and the Apostles. The expressions therefore in Revelation, bearing upon Mystic Babylon, were prophetic of Systems and conditions which have since arisen in the Church. The word Babylon has a double significance—the Gate of God—also Confusion.

Babylon's Golden Cup.

Under the figure of a woman clothed in purple and scarlet the Mother System of Babylon, centuries ago, "made all nations drunk with her wine," the doctrines which she had in her "golden cup" (Rev. xvii, 1-6). The "golden cup" represents the Bible. It was misused when the wine of false doctrine was put into it—when the Bible was claimed as authority for the erroneous teachings of the Dark Ages. The intoxicating wine which made the nations drunk, and led them to support the "woman," and to call themselves Christian nations, Papacy still holds in her hand, and still offers it to all who will receive it. But the nations are gradually sobering up, and becoming less and less inclined to take more of the wine.

The thought is that a commingled wine—a stupefying potion—was put into the wine in the cup; such doctrines as that God's Kingdom had been set up, and that the Pope reigns as Christ's Vicegerent. Other poisonous elements had threatened the people with Purgatorial torture, or eternal torment.

The Protestant denominations were all born under those intoxicating influences. While they separated from the Mother system, and denounced her, yet they hold doctrinally to many of the intoxicating errors of her "cup." Consequently they, too, claim that Messiah's Kingdom is set up and is reigning. They join in giving the nations the same dope the Mother gave them, telling them they are Christian nations, though they are building great guns and dreadnoughts to blow each other off the face of the earth.

Water here symbolizes revenues, from outside peoples and kingdoms. So in Revelation we read that the woman with the golden cup "sitteth upon many waters;" and the waters which thou savest are peoples and multitudes, and nations, and tongues." (Rev. xvii, 1, 15.)

The "Euphrates" to Be Dried Up.

In book of Revelation not merely is the name Babylon used, but the symbolical description includes the name of the Euphrates, and we read of the great River Euphrates that "The water thereof was dried up." If we are correct in interpreting these "waters" to signify revenues, what would be signified by the drying up of the River? It would imply a cessation of the revenues of Babylon—millions coming every year from rich and poor of all nations for her support. It is in full accord with this Divine prediction of what is to come that we hear crying arising from all denominations, Catholic and Protestant, that the "waters," the revenues, are being dried up.

History tells that the great City of Babylon was captured by Cyrus and his army after a considerable siege. His soldiers dug a fresh channel for the river and turned its course aside. Thus was the River Euphrates dried up, and the army of Cyrus entered Babylon, suddenly, in the night. While these things were transpiring, the princes of Babylon, corresponding to the notables of Christendom, were holding high carnival, rejoicing in security. It was at this moment of exuberance that in the banquet hall of Belshazzar a hand appeared and wrote: "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin." "Mene"—the days of your rule are numbered and finished. "Tekel"—Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting! "Upharsin"—thy Kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians. The strong symbolisms used in respect to Mystic Babylon correspond so well with the prophetic language used respecting literal Babylon that we are warranted in understanding literal Babylon to have been a prototype of Mystic Babylon, and her fall a prefigure of the fall of Christendom. Read Isa. xlii, 1-9. Compare Jer. i and ii with Revelation xvi, xvii and xviii.

MELLIN'S FOOD

"Our little son is a typical Mellin's Food baby. When he was born he weighed eight and one-half pounds. We began using Mellin's Food when he was ten days old. Now at eight months he is a perfect specimen of a boy, exceptionally strong, weighing over twenty-five pounds. We are indeed pleased with the results and just wanted to tell you how well we are satisfied with your splendid food."—Mrs. R. L. McPherson, Hartsboro, Okla.

"We have been feeding Mellin's Food to our baby for about two months and are very well satisfied with the results. Baby had been troubled with his stomach ever since he was born until we started to use Mellin's Food. We had tried all kinds of baby foods and milks, but none seemed to agree with him."

Tam o' Shanter's Inn.

Every visitor to Ayr, Scotland, should see the little Tam o' Shanter inn, with its simple front and great lamp hanging over the sidewalk. Here opened the scene which Robert Burns has immortalized in his poem "Tam o' Shanter." Tam had spent a very convivial evening at the inn, and when he finally started home on his gray mare, Meg, he was in a rather foggy frame of mind. A terrific storm was raging, and on the way he was caught by ghosts, who ended his earthly career.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Dispatch Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Brainerd citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and as time passed, my condition grew worse. About a year ago I was suddenly taken with such a severe pain in the small of my back that I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine relieved me somewhat and I got out in a few weeks, but I still suffered severely. Someone finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply. The contents of a few boxes restored me to good health and corrected all symptoms of my complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will act just as satisfactorily in other cases of kidney trouble." (Statement given September 1, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

On October 12, 1910, Mr. Ellison said: "The public statement I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills over two years ago still holds good. I know that this remedy is good for kidney trouble."
